1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the distribution of the elements of a finite group. It is shown that the distribution of the elements of a finite group is determined by the structure of the group.
 2. The second part of the paper is devoted to a study of the properties of the elements of a finite group. It is shown that the elements of a finite group are characterized by their order and their conjugacy class.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or document, written on aged, yellowed paper. The text is densely packed and spans the width of the page. There are two dark circular marks, possibly holes or ink smudges, visible on the paper. The handwriting is fluid and characteristic of 18th or 19th-century cursive.
